From the Editor's Desk – Russell Clark

Welcome members to issue 30 of the RAT Newsletter, I hope this finds you and your family well.

A lot has happened since our last newsletter, of importance was the Hobart Workshop PI reunion in November, which without doubt was a huge success and included RAEME birthday celebrations. Attendees from as far as Queensland, South Australia and Victoria made time and effort to travel to the state to reacquaint with ex members. There is more detailed report on the reunion further in this newsletter.

During RAEME birthday celebrations last year saw Honorary Life Membership granted to John Lennox (JL). Well done JL well deserved.

Looking ahead your Committee has been busy preparing this year calendar which you would have received recently. We are trying something different to cater for our members, by having a family weekend in December at "Rivers Edge Camping Ground" in the Huon Valley. This will be an opportunity for you to dust off the camping gear and enjoy the weekend at Rivers Edge. Hey, bring a Hutchie if you haven't got any camping equipment!

Finally, on behalf of the Association we extend our sincere gratitude to COL Andrew Herbert, who has served as Colonel Commandant Tasmania since 2020. His leadership was instrumental in strengthening the Corp in our state. Andrew's dedication has left a lasting legacy, and we thank him for his exemplary service, well done mate.

Well now's the time to sit back, make yourself a brew, and enjoy this issue of the RAT Newsletter. If you have any stories or photos please forward to me to be included in the next newsletter. I will require these NLT 30 September 2025.

Presidents Report – Mark Wilson

Team, this is definitely the hardest introduction that I have yet had to write for our newsletter. I have just posted Russell's Vale for John Lennox on our Facebook site, I would once again like to publicly pass on the association's condolences to Doro, John's partner and John's family; he will be missed by all.

As they say those that are left must go on, no matter how difficult the road appears. We once again have some great articles, Russell continues to herd the cats to get the newsletter out on time, every time. Thanks Russell.

We have a new piece of merchandise that I think will go like hotcakes! It is a leather fob and key ring, yours for the small price of $15. Some great work by Mick and the Merch team in getting these out before ANZAC day, they will be available both before and after the march, just come and see me. We are also working on some new hats, I'm not sure that they will be ready but we are trying hard. See Micks merch report in this edition.

I am going to keep this one short, so sit back, grab your favourite refreshment, find a comfortable spot, and enjoy the read. It would be great if you could reflect on your own service the people that you served with and reach out and give them a call, it will do you both well.

Changes to Royal Symbols across Defence

On 27 September 2022, Buckingham Palace announced updates to Royal symbols to reflect the reign of King Charles III. The late Queen Elizabeth II's Cypher (E II R with St Edward's Crown) is being replaced by His Majesty's Cypher (C III R with Tudor Crown). This transition represents a significant update to the symbols that embody royal authority across Commonwealth institutions, including the Australian Defence Force (ADF).

The Department of Defence has received formal advice from the Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet (PM&C) regarding these changes. Following the United Kingdom Government's approach, Australian Government Departments will update Royal symbols in line with the Symbols of the State Guidance. The Secretary of Defence and the Chief of Defence Force have tasked ADF Headquarters (ADFHQ) with leading this transition, including the establishment of a working group to evaluate the scope, costs, timing, and potential impacts of these updates.

Defence will adopt a measured and cost-efficient approach to implementing these changes. Guided by a "grandfathering" principle, existing symbols will remain valid, and updates will be introduced progressively to minimise financial and operational disruptions. No specific timeframe has been set, and Defence organisations are encouraged to avoid unnecessary expenditures. This deliberate approach mirrors the ten-year transition during Queen Elizabeth II's reign, ensuring continuity and consistency in adopting the new Royal symbols across Defence.

Hi all from the north Island

We have just received a limited number of RAEME Association of Tasmania Keyrings to match the Stubby Coolers we received last year. The Keyrings are $15.00 each and we still have the Stubby Coolers for $10.00.

The Keyrings are a black Leather Baron Keyrings with the logo in a colour resin. I would expect that the stock we have will go fast.

The Stubby Coolers are a good quality cooler with the upper, side and bottom are fully stitched and should last well.

We are hoping to get new stock of RAEME caps.

A reminder we are able to order the Polos, Tee Shirts and Shorts from our supplier in Hobart.

To place an order, click on the link below;

RAEME (Army) History Tasmania – John Lennox

On the 1st of Jan 1943, being the first year since RAEME's establishment, the Army News released what was important at that time. Some of the more interesting stories are below. For more <https://trove.nla.gov.au/newspaper/page/3351692>

HE MUST HAVE BEEN GOOD
A cable message received yesterday from New York stated that a soldier had been discharged from the United States' Army because of his tremendous snoring powers.

Australian Army medical officers said yesterday that plenty of men had been thrown out of their tents because of their excessive snoring, but nobody had yet been thrown out of the Australian Army for this "offence." Most Australians silence snoring comrades by hurling a boot at them or by the more humane method of turning them over.

ARMY NEWS THANKS ITS READERS
The demand for the Christmas issue of Army News was so heavy that all requirements had to be rationed and our limited supply of this issue has now been exhausted.

It would have pleased us to be able to supply one copy to every person serving in the N.T. but newsprint supplies would not allow this.

To all who have sent seasonal greetings and congratulations for the Christmas issue, and to every one of our readers, we reciprocate those greetings and thank you.

For this year, 1943, we resolve to try and improve our methods of, keeping you abreast of world news, just as you are improving your standard of efficiency in training so that you will play your part in the great and final victory, which, will most assuredly be ours.

On The Home Front
Few of the normal New Year festivities are available to the people "Down South" in their celebrations at the advent of 1943. Even late revelry has been curtailed by the demands of a normal working day in place of the usual holiday. Soft drinks are hard to obtain, no race trains will run to-day and the ordinary tram services were not increased to deal with late traffic on New Year's Eve.

Military Rejects for Farms
The Western Australian deputy director of manpower is making a voluntary call-up of unmarried rejects, between the ages of 18 and 34, for rural work. He said that the increase of rural workers was necessary to enable producers to carry on.

Hobart Workshop Platoon Reunion 15-17 November 2024

Twelve months of planning finally saw the coming together of ex members of Hobart Workshop Platoon, their partners, and members of our Association held over the weekend of 15-17 November 2024. People travelled from as far as Queensland, Victoria and South Australia. The weekend as expected was a huge success finishing off incorporating RAEME Birthday as part of the reunion at "The Lair"

This was the second reunion held, the first one in 2019. It was sad to see however that some ex members (and close friends) had passed since the first reunion, but were remembered during the course of the weekend.

Three functions were held over the course of the weekend: -

- Friday Night – Meet and Greet Anglesea Barracks Sergeants Mess,
- Saturday Night – Dinner Lenah Valley RSL, and
- Sunday - Lunch and RAEME Birthday at "The Lair" 2FSB Derwent Barracks.

I have limited the number of photos in this edition, however you can view all photos of the weekend on our website, simply click on the following link:-

Was it a success? My word it was, everyone enjoyed themselves and asked whether another reunion should be held? At this stage NO, but you never say never!

Friday Night - Meet and Greet

Friday night saw the reunion meet at the Anglesea Barracks Sergeants Mess giving everyone a chance to reacquaint old friendship. It goes without saying that the Mess hadn't seen a gathering as such for some time, being embarrassingly caught short with most drinks and were forced to restock from the Officers Mess but, as expected, that is the RAEME way!

The night also included the introduction of our new RAT mascot, yet to be named, there is more on this further in the newsletter.

Members assembled Sir

Saturday night- Dinner Lenah Valley RSL

Saturday night was an informal dinner at the Lenah Valley RSL, once again a chance for friends to mingle, chat and tell a few good old stories.

We could not have asked for a better venue, this RSL is one of the few remaining genuine RSL's, its current President, Andrew McShane is a member of our Association, well done Andy, it's a great RSL.

Everyone as was Friday night enjoyed the night, the highlights being winning the majority of the RSLs meat raffles.

Unfortunately, I have no photos of the night, if anyone out there does, can you please forward to me so that we can include them in the website's gallery?

Sunday – BBQ, RAEME Birthday and tour of the new Workshop

Sunday was the final day of the reunion, no doubt the best day. Lunch was prepared by the Committee under the guidance of our President Mark Wilson, once again providing a great lunch.

It was decided to conduct a number of activities during the course of the day namely: -

- Tour of the new JLUV workshop,
- Celebrate RAEME Birthday,
- Cutting of the cake,
- (Should I mention it) AGM, and
- Introduce our latest honorary life member.

Gathering at Bluebell St

Members preparing to tour JLUV Wksp

A tour of the new workshop was planned and undertaken by Peter (Speedy) Barrett showing envious ex members the layout of the new workshop built to accommodate the Army's latest vehicles and equipment.

Two important events were held during the day, cutting of the cake and bestowing honouree life membership to our latest recipient, John (JL) (Lurch) Lennox. There is more on John further in the newsletter.

As mentioned it was without doubt our best day, a final chance to meet and chat. The numbers showed once again that we may be a small Association but we can still muster a great get together and most importantly RAEME is still alive and functioning as an Association here in Tasmania!!!

We did have our AGM and, surprise the old committee was re-elected unopposed.

New RAT Mascot

Going back in time when the Association was first formed, Peter (Phantom) McDonough nicknamed us the RATs which has stuck with us and is now mainly used as our Association badge. Last year our Webmaster Glen Hay came up with an idea and took it upon himself to painstakingly create the Associations new Mascot with his 3d printer, making its debut at the Sergeants Mess on our Meet and Greet night for the Hobart Wksp Reunion. He will be attending all future activities.

Our latest Honorary Recipient-John Lennox

Editor's note: This report was compiled last week, sadly John Lennox passed away on Sunday 13th April 2025. I have decided to honour Johns life by leaving the report as is. It was an honour to call you a friend and a great mate you will be sadly missed by Association members. Rest easy Soldier your job is done.

As mentioned earlier in the newsletter John Lennox (JL) was made the fourth honorary life JL has been our Association Historian since its inception.
